Vol. 20 - No. 1 January 2018 "True Nehrenz Stories and Tales"

From the Editor - Dave Nehrenz - davenehrenz@aol.com 902 Carey Dr. Norman, OK. 73069

Hello to the Nehrenz family members and friends! The last issue of this newsletter was in December 2016 and the topic was "The Nehrenz Family Gravestones." This issue was meant for December 2017, so it's one month late.

The two ancestors of ALL the Nehrenz descendants in the country are Johann Christian Theodore and Johanna Maria Elizabeth (Lemke) Nehrenz. They were buried in Cleveland, Ohio at the Wade Scranton cemetery in what was an unmarked grave. But that spot is unmarked no more! A monument making company was contracted. We set up an online GoFundMe account. The funds were all raised. The gravestone has been erected and placed.

This is the spot where our first Nehrenz ancestors are buried. We have now honored Johann and Marie, who left Trollenhagen, Germany in October 1869 and brought their children to Cleveland, Ohio. This was 148 years ago.

In 2020 it will be the 200th anniversary of the birth of Johann Christian Theodor Nehrenz in 1820. His exact birthdate was March 3, 1820 in Trollenhagen, Germany. He died June 23, 1888 in Cleveland, Ohio. Over the years we have dedicated various issues of this newsletter to all 7 family lines from their children. Other issues have shared the Nehrenz geography showing where we all live. We have had other issues about Grischow and Trollenhagen, Germany from where we originally came. You can view and download all 23 years of the issues (since 1995) at The Nehrenz Network webpage.

Please go to all three webpages at the top of this page. The Nehrenz Network Facebook page is brand new and this can become the meeting place for all Nehrenz relatives and descendants to share stories and pictures.

The first two webpages can be accessed by everyone, the Ancestry page will require an Ancestry account.

This issue will include "True Nehrenz Stories and Tales!" Many narratives, accounts and news clippings have been gathered over the years, so that they now fill filing cabinets in our garage. Once I retire, I intend to write "The Nehrenz Family History Book." Until I do, you are welcome to continue to send your own stories, records, photos, updates and corrections. Also, if you want to view the entire Nehrenz Family Tree in a PDF format, send me an email and I will send it to you as an attachment. In one PDF, you will have 12 generations of ALL the Nehrenz folks about whom we know.

In this newsletter, I am going to share some of these stories and accounts about our ancestors. Some of these stories are funny and others are sad, and even tragic. These will reflect the very real lives of our Nehrenz relatives in the past.

Here again is a list of the original ancestors of us all. It is a handy reference guide to our family tree. Dave Nehrenz

THIS IS THE ACCOUNT AND RECORD OF OUR PATRIARCH AND MATRIARCH COMING TO AMERICA in 1869

Johann "Christian" Nehrenz emigrated from Germany, leaving from Hamburg Germany on Oct. 30, 1869. He was a farmer in Trollenhagen (Mecklenburg Strelitz) Germany. He was 49, his wife Maria was 50, sons: Christian- 23, Wilhelm- 12, Henry-7, daughters: Wilhelmine- 18, Johanna-9. (His eldest son Friedrich came over two years later in 1871 with his wife Friedrika and brother Carl). They sailed on the ship "S.S. Borussia" (1855 Hamburg-American Line) and arrived in New York on Nov. 19, 1869.

The arrival records for the Port of New York at the Castle Clinton immigration center (at the tip of Manhattan Island, called "The Battery"- the pre-Ellis Island immigrant processing place) have the listing: as passengers #80-86: Johann Nehrenz - 49, male farmer, Marie- 50 female his wife, Chr.-23 male, Wilhe. -18 female, Wm. -12 male, Johe. -9 female, H. -6 male -listed as children. They are listed as coming from Germany and they travelled "between-deck." The master of the SS Borussia was C. Hebich, and the ship was a steamer from Hamburg, Germany and its burthen was 2133 tons, no. de Armas 1294.

On the 1870 U.S. Census, his family is listed at #722 home visitation number, 149 sheet, page 93 12th Ward, Cuyahoga County - this was 134 (2804) Wade on June 16, 1870 in Cleveland, OH. page No. 93.

In the house were 2 families: #775 John Masa, #776 Christ Nerens.

#775- owner John Masa-71, from Prussia, real estate value $1800; personal estate value $1571; and he was already a US citizen; Fredka Masa-57, housekeeper; Ernst Masa-16, works pail factory;

#776- Christ Nerens -49 constr/laborer; Mary-50 housekeeper;

Henry-8 attend school; William-16 pail factory; Christopher-24 const. laborer / brick mason. They are all listed as being from Prussia and not yet US citizens. (What is unknown is why the two daughters Wilhelmina (18) and Johanna (9) are not listed with the family - did they live somewhere else with another family - this is a mystery?)

OF SPECIAL INTEREST:

It appears that John Masa had a special relationship with Christ Nerens. John was almost the age of Christian's actual father. The 1870 census-taker spelled their last name as "Nerens." If John had "sponsored" the Nerens family, then he allowed them, when they first arrived in the USA, to live in his home along with his wife and son.

Incidentally, Mae (Lohr) Nehrenz (the youngest daughter of Henry Nehrenz, the youngest son of Christ Nerens, and in 1870 he was only 8 years old, when living with the Masa family) was interviewed by me in about 1978-79 in Ft. Wayne, IN.

She thought that her father Henry's mother's maiden name was "Mary Masa" (when it was actually "Mary Lempke"). It was always a mystery where she came up with that last name. Now it would appear that she had heard her father Henry talk about a Mrs. Masa. And since he would have thought of her like a grandmother, somehow Mae combined the name "Mary" with the name "Masa" and thought it was the name of her own grandmother. This is one of those strange incidences where that name was recorded by me in 1979, but not until I looked at the 1870 census records, did I realize from where that name had come.

The Nehrenz family had to have somewhere to live when they moved to Cleveland, so they lived with the Masa family. A whole other line of research would be an attempt to find out how they knew one another, and if the Masa family had also originated from the Trollenhagen, Germany area. The "Masa" name continued in the old Cleveland city directories.

Auburn St. (originally #7) and the house on the right is where they died at 2821
W. 12th St. (originally 45
Noyes St.)

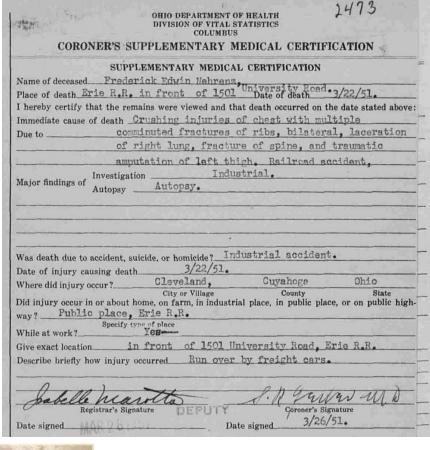

Frederick Edwin Nehrenz, (born April 13, 1897; died March 22, 1951) was the first son of William Ernest Martin Nehrenz and Caroline M. (Soergel) Nehrenz. He was the oldest of the 14 children of William Nehrenz. Fred had no children of his own and he married a divorcee, Lela M. Phillipps, who had two daughters from her first marriage: Dorothy and Vivian. They took his Nehrenz surname, so we assume he adopted them. Fred was a switchman for the Erie Railroad in Cleveland. He was leader in the Railroad Union. He was very active in the community and well-liked by everyone.

In 2008, I interviewed his step-daughter, Dorothy (Nehrenz) Merriam (1912-2011), and she told me, "For a time he was a member of St. Paul's in Lakewood and was in the men's group. They drank alot on Thursday night, and Fred was not a drinker because his father was a drinker. He did not appreciate all their drinking, and the men also objected to his belonging to the Masonic Lodge, so he left the church. So he joined Redeemer Lutheran Church. He was killed when working on a cold day, he fell and the train went over him, even bent a nickel in his pocket. He was a member of the railroad lodge. Worked for the Erie railroad. Was well known. He lived to work and was all business, and was the head of the organizations he was a part of. His grandfather also died from a railroad accident. Many people came to his funeral, he had a hole in his head and a board holding his body together."

The pictures below show him with his wife Lela, his death certificate, his home and also the items he had on his person when he died. Though he had a challenging childhood, he was a loving father to his step-daughters and a kind brother to his siblings. He lived at 2182 Olive Ave. in Lakewood, Ohio. This was only six blocks from 1547 Mars Ave., where his "first cousin once-removed" and his dentist, Dr. John Nehrenz, and his wife Gert and family lived.

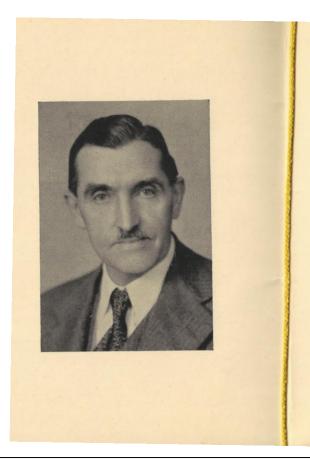

August William Frederick Nehrenz (born September 29, 1877; died March 31, 1959) was the youngest son of Friedrick Christian Martin Nehrenz and Henriette Johanne Friedricka (Lohrenz) Nehrenz. He was baptized at Trinity Lutheran Church in Cleveland, Ohio and then confirmed at Immanuel Lutheran Church. He attended their parochial school and then went on to the Lutheran Teachers College in Addison, Illinois. He was a teacher, organist and choir director.

He was married to Anna K. (Tobaben) Nehrenz. They only had one child, August H. Nehrenz, born in 1902, who lived for only 2 months. A few years later they adopted William Louis (Raubenheimer) Nehrenz. August was a very talented musician and there are recordings of his organ playing. He spent his years serving Lutheran churches and schools in New York: Brooklyn and Queens. Many Nehrenz people would travel to New York to see him.

George Bockman and Mildred Youngblood remembered him. "Uncle August was a wonderful man. He came to visit in Cleveland quite often. Aunt Annie was also very nice. We heard him play the organ. George went out to visit August for the world's fair in 1935 in New York when he was 13, and didn't take the bus, but hitchhiked. August showed him around, played the organ for him. He loved limburger cheese, onion and beer."

Below is the booklet that was made for his funeral. We would like to get the recordings he made digitized. August was a beloved man in the community. When you read this brief history, you will see he impacted the lives of many people.

BIOGRAPHICAL

August W. Nehrenz, man of God, friend, counsellor, companion in Christ, was born on a bright September day in the year 1877. He has his roots in mid-western soil, for it was at Cleveland, Ohio, that he first saw the light of day. His parents sent him to the Christian Day School of Immanuel Church, where he received his elementary training in the grace of Christian living.

His pastor and school teachers so impressed him with the sacredness of the office of a teacher, that he entered our Teachers' College at Addison, Illinois, when he had finished his elementary training. He was graduated from that institution in 1897. His first call was to old St. Matthew's School, the oldest Christian Day School in our country, which was then located in Broome Street, Manhattan. He labored faithfully at historic St. Matthew's for eight years.

On July 27, 1905, St. John's Church issued a call to him. He accepted and was installed in a solemn service on September 3rd, 1905. From that time to this he has served his Savior with incomparable zeal at our congregation. Until 1931 he taught and served as principal of St. John's School. He has also served as organist and choirmaster. Hundreds of people, who received their elementary training under his guidance, look up to him now with reverence, for his piety and earnestness have left a lasting impression upon them.

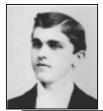

Since the fall of 1931, when the school was closed, Mr. Nehrenz has served the congregation as Secretary and man of all trades. He has been extremely versatile. On October 1st, 1947, he resigned as Organist and Choirmaster, a post which he had held for forty-two years.

In 1900 he was joined in holy wedlock with Miss Anna Tobaben. Through the years she has been his faithful companion and co-laborer in the Vineyard, for she has endeared herself to all who know her by her ardent faithfulness in serving the Lord.

A deep faith and a loyal consecration to duty characterize Mr. Nehrenz, St. John's Congregation renders praise and thanksgiving to God for His mercy in permitting it to enjoy the Christian services of this man of God.

August had a brother, Heinrich Nehrenz (born September 26, 1872; died January 04, 1898) who also attended the Lutheran Teachers College in Addison, Illinois. He was married to Marie Elizabeth Emile (Soergel) Nehrenz. They had one son, Walther Frederick Sr. Nehrenz. Henry became a teacher in Ft. Wayne, Indiana. Even as a young man he left his mark as a grade-school teacher and principal. But he died at a young age. "Consumption was the immediate cause of death. Prof. Nehrenz had long been a sufferer from that dread disease but until Monday he had attended to his school duties as usual. At noon Monday he was prostrated and in a little over 24 hours he was dead. The death comes as a severe shock to his numerous friends. The deceased was 26 years of age and leaves a wife and a small child." Ft. Wayne Journal Jan. 5, 1898

"The funeral of Professor Nehrenz took place at Trinity Lutheran church... after the church services there was a special service in the school house hall, giving the children an opportunity to hear a last tribute expressed to the memory of their late teacher. The funeral was largely attended." Fort Wayne Sentinel Jan. 7, 1898. He is buried in the old Lutheran cemetery in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Henry and Mamie Nehrenz

Percy Arthur Nehrenz (born July 10, 1895; died June 27, 1964) was the youngest son of Johann "Carl" Friedrick Theodor Nehrenz (1848-1913) and Minnie Wilhelmina (Schultz) Nehrenz (1856-1936). Percy had three siblings: Frank, Carolyn and Edmond. Percy was born in Madison, Wisconsin and was married to Lucy O. (Polodna) Nehrenz (1904-2009; She lived to be almost 105 and was interviewed twice). Percy's father's family was the only one of the seven Nehrenz family lines to leave Ohio and move to Wisconsin. His father Carl Nehrenz came from Germany with Frederick, who was the eldest son, in November 1871, two years after the rest of the family, who came in 1869. Carl worked in the factory in Wisconsin and developed a serious problem with his lungs from that work and died from that lung condition.

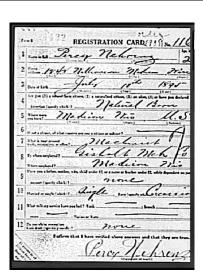

Percy and Lucy had no children. Percy was the youngest, and was only 18 when his father Carl died, so his older brother Edmund insisted that Percy go to high school. Percy did not tell his wife Lucy very much about his father and mother. Percy's family would share and send Christmas cards to the Mary Nehrenz family and his mother Minnie also corresponded with Mary Nehrenz. Occasionally they made trips to Ohio to visit the Nehrenz family there. Percy worked as a tool and die maker at a plant in Wisconsin and made molds for items like toys. His hobby was photography, and fixing up their home. He had a hiatal-hernia in his stomach and he died of shock after having surgery on it.

From Dr. John Nehrenz' 5 year journal: "Aug. 13, 1939 - Sunday, Cousin Percy Nehrenz and wife Lucy from Madison Wis. visited here in town. I took them to train station in a.m. at Rocky River."

His wife Lucy was a delightful and witty person. In an interview she said, "When she became a widow, she continued to live in the house which she and Percy built at 4307 Winnequah, right on Lake Minnota. Percy designed the house himself and they did all the work on it themselves. She worked in the yard, ate her vegetables, fruit and steak and stayed away from less healthy foods. She stayed the same weight consistently that way. In 1975, sadly, she had to sell the house and had no trouble doing so, since it was on a lake. She is thankful to the Lord for her health and that she still has the mind and mentality she does. She recalls being interviewed by a doctor in the 1970s who was astonished when he asked her about the Titanic and she told him she remembered the event, since she was 8 years old at the time!"

When the newspaper interviewed her for her 103rd birthday she explained that, "They were married at the height of the Depression, eventually bought a small home in Monona and, although they never had kids, were generally quite happy, she says. "I mean, we didn't fight or throw clubs at each other," she says with a laugh. Though she's endured her share of illnesses, has had two hip replacements and now uses a wheelchair, Nehrenz says she feels incredibly lucky to still be living on her own -- although she still agonizes about selling her car last year. No, she didn't lose her license or anything like that, she explains. It's just that she got tired of "people making eyes at me" when they'd find out she was still driving at 102. Nehrenz says people probably won't believe this, but there's no real secret to living to such a ripe, old age. Well, not entirely true, she says. She's always eaten lots of vegetables and avoided processed and high-fat foods. And instead of coffee, she's been drinking her own special concoction every morning for the last 40 years -- a cup of hot water with a tablespoon of molasses in it. "I love it," she says. Does she fear death? Not at all, Nehrenz says, because she's convinced the next world will be much more pleasant -- and far less violent -- than this one." Lucy P. Nehrenz died on September 15, 2009 at the age of 104.

The Nehrenz Ancestors Gravestone Fund on "GoFundMe.com" has been closed.

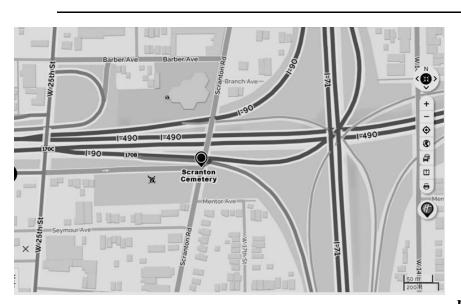

Johann Christian and Johanna Maria Nehrenz gravestone, the cost estimate was as follows: $2700.00 for the gravestone, plus taxes of $216.00 plus $350.00 fee by the cemetery to place the stone, for a total of $3266.00. A GOFUNDME account was setup, to which many of you donated. We tracked all the funds that came in with the goal of raising the entire amount. Some of you sent donations directly to us as well. In the summer of 2017 the gravestone was placed.

WE THANK ALL OF YOU WHO MADE DONATIONS SO THAT THIS COULD BE ACCOMPLISHED!

After 129 years (1888-2017) it is fitting that we have placed a memorial gravestone to mark their burial spot. Now that it is placed, here are the exact directions to the cemetery and the burial plot, so the next time you visit Cleveland, you can go see the gravestone and pay your respects.

Plot 180 N – on the North side of the cemetery by the fence that runs along Wade Street. Walk about halfway into the cemetery and it is north of the grove of trees. See X on map below. You can enter the cemetery on the East side by the gate on Scranton Rd.
